And the angel said unto them, "Do not be afraid, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy; for today there has been born to you a Savior, who is Christ the Lord." And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth..."

Christmas Greetings from the Commanding Officer

Today, the third Christmas in the life of Aiea, finds our fighting forces in all branches biting through the inner fringes of the enemy's empire with such effectiveness and force as to portend a successful conclusion of this Pacific War and the continuance of American ideals in Asiatic regions.

To this end our staff, rank and file from top to bottom, have contributed in no small measure to the war effort in mending the bodies of buddies and building up their morale with the remarkable facilities given us.

May our high standard of service continue in the new year as it has in the past year but with a sincere hope that the necessity for such service may be short-lived and that a return to peaceful routine may be in the making.

The heartiest Christmas greetings and a Happy New Year is extended to all hands and to the dear ones at home whom we are thinking so much about at this season.

A Message From Our Chaplains

A HALO OF MEMORIES hovers over our thoughts of Christmas. Perhaps a tear finds its way to the surface as we think of wife and children gathered about a Christmas tree, or of Mom and Dad and the rest of the family. We may think of snow and sleigh-bells; of parties and gifts; of turkey and plum pudding and ambrosia. Some may think of mistletoe and the stolen kiss; of charity and good will.

However, the lasting halo of Christmas is that suggested by the preacher who said, "Only God could have thought of Christmas." The real meaning of Christmas can never be lost by those whose memories are kindled by the thought of the Manger in Bethlehem; of the angelic chorus with the expression of hope that came to the shepherds in the fields; of the star that guided wise men to the place where a Child lay.

In this great hospital, doctors, nurses, corpsmen, chaplains, Red Cross workers and other staff members are daily giving expression to the principles born into the world that first Christmas. The real halo of Christmas today lies in the expressions of regard for the lasting worth of human personality. In every mass, in every act of devotion, in every prayer, in every communion service, in every sermon, in every anthem and in every hymn, the halo of Christmas hovers over us. May we keep it untarnished, with unfeigned loyalty to the values that are eternal, in the days ahead.

May God bless you and yours, and may the coming of a day of a just and lasting peace be hastened by a rebirth of the ideals of Him who came to us on the first Christmas of long ago.

Chaplain

THERE ARE MANY STORIES about Christmas but there is only one Christmas Story. Tales there are of joy around the Christmas tree; accounts, too, of happy homecomings, of long awaited reunions. What acts of kindness, what deeds of sacrifice are told. Yet there is only one Christmas Story, a children's story about a Child who came from heaven. Other children's stories have become mere childhood memories because one sad day we discovered that they were not true. But this one real Christmas Story remains ever the same, the delight of our youthful hours, the solace of our mature days.

Why didn't Christ first come among us in the full strength of manhood? The true meaning of the crib shows how much He wished to be one of us in every possible sense. True God, He would be true man. Had He come otherwise, some would take the Christmas Story for a mere nursery tale, or an apparition. The first beating of His Heart was a human heart-beat and that same Heart is human for all eternity. Thus, Christ would have us realize by the very manner of His coming that He has assumed a relationship to us which will last for all eternity.

The Story did not begin with Bethlehem. For centuries, God had seen His children searching everywhere, like people without a home. Man had looked into his own heart and he found there a want which neither he himself nor anything else could satisfy. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son." That treasure was placed in a cave where people might find it on that first Christmas night and they were given a sign by which they could identify it. "And this shall be a sign unto you: you shall find the Infant wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in a manger."
